Dear Dickey and Dave,

What can we say, but huge thanks for all you have done over the last few months. It can be a bit daunting knowing that strangers are going to be in your house for months. We were reassured immediately as your trust-worthy nature shone through. Indeed, you have come to be like part of the family and we shall miss your presence. It has been an absolute blast and we've had lots of laughs.

You've also taken the time to treat our home with respect and courtesy, which we really appreciate, especially the trouble you have gone to tidying up afterwards. Additionally, you have left us with a first rate extension and despite there being pretty major set backs early on you've took it all in your stride finding a solution to every problem. Your dedication to the project showed extremely early on, when despite your health Dave the project did not suffer

We wish you well with all your new ventures and would recommend you to anybody considering having building work undertaken. Keep on going as you are and you will reap what you sew. Take care and remember you are always welcome here!

Enjoy your holiday you've earned the rest!

Best Wishes

Sue and Linden
